

Table containing multiple columns of business registration data. Each entry includes a name, address, and registration details. The text is dense and follows a structured layout typical of a legal or official register.