

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document, written on aged, yellowed paper. The text is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side. The document is framed by a decorative border of repeating circular motifs.