

Handwritten text in a historical script, possibly a manuscript or legal document, featuring some red ink highlights. The text is arranged in approximately 25 lines. Several lines are written in red ink, including the words "Dass", "der", and "alle". The script is a dense, cursive historical German cursive.