

Handwritten text at the top of the page, likely a title or header, written in a historical script.

Large block of handwritten text in the upper middle section, possibly a main body of text or a list.

Handwritten text in the middle section, continuing the content from above.

Handwritten text in the lower middle section, possibly a concluding part or a signature area.

Sächsische
Landesbibliothek
Dresden